

Integrated Grammar Worksheet for Classes 9 and 10

Fill in the blanks.

..... (Everyone / someone / anyone) makes mistakes and the (little / less / least) experienced you are, the more mistakes you make. The only question is 'How will you use (this / these / those) stumbling blocks as stepping stones to success?'

There (is / are / were / have been) two ways to look at the world: the benevolent way and the malevolent way. People with a malevolent or negative worldview take a victim stance. They see life as an unending succession of problems. They don't expect a lot and they don't get (much / most / many) either. When things go wrong, they shrug their shoulders and passively accept that this is the way life is and there isn't (anything / nothing / something) they can do to make it better.

On the other hand, people with a benevolent or positive worldview see the world around them as filled with opportunities and possibilities. They believe that (everything / anything / something) happens as part of a great scheme designed to make them successful and happy. They approach (their / your / our) lives, their work, and their relationships with optimism, cheerfulness, and a general attitude of positive expectations. They expect (lot / lots / a lot) and they are seldom disappointed.
